
VBS2 US Army Lite [UPDATED]

8. this game is amazing. i'm a huge fan of strategy games, but i have played a couple of war games. this one has the best combat i've ever seen! i'm so happy that you are making this game that i can play for the rest of my life! 10. i know this is an old thread but i just want to add my appreciation. war games can be so painfully boring in their original form. vbs2 is a breath of fresh air. thank you and keep up the good work! the project is expected to undergo a two-year period of mission analysis and technology development before a prototype is developed. project participants said the system will be available to the army in 5-7 years. the award is part of a fund for training excellence grant program that encourages non-developmental concepts and technologies to be converted into a robust army computer platform. the $10.9 million goal of the program is to deliver a technology that will make the army more effective in the 21 [16] st century, and the successful participants' proposals will be incorporated into a multi-year effort. the program supports the futures and integration directorate and the greater us army training and doctrine command. i then tried to install the game using the vbs2 game launcher first, and extract the 7zip files. installation is complete, game runs fine, i see the desktop icon for vbs2, start the game and get an error 'data file too short 'vbs2ddonsnims.xbo''. then i tried a third time. left the setup file in place and extracted the 7zip files. installed the game through the game launcher, and made some initial adjustments. seems to be working fine, until i get this error 'data file too short 'vbs2ddonsnims.xbo''.

VBS2 US Army Lite

at the recent committee of advisors on the capabilities of the army, vbs2 was ranked #4 overall and #1 in the infantry and combined arms category. the army also placed vbs2 at #1 in the tactical engagement simulation category. the army has a requirement for 2,700 multi-player networked training sessions with vbs2 in fiscal year 2007, and the army is on target to conduct 13,000 vbs2 networked training sessions. since the army's acquisition of vbs2, the software has been certified as a department of defense (dod) product. the certification provides vbs2 with certain dod-approved technical capabilities and management and use requirements, including the ability to conduct networked training sessions. the army has also done extensive testing and development on vbs2 over the past two years. during the army's recent committee of advisors on the capabilities of the army, the army worked through testing and fielding problems with vbs2, which included problems with the simulation of the f-22, m1a2 abrams, m1a2t abrams, bradley fighting vehicle, and paladin howitzer. the army is currently working on the development of a new vbs2-based game-based training system for the navy. the navy will use this system to provide its senior leadership with scenario-based training for their various operational commands and mission-specific training for its sailors. in addition, the army has also incorporated vbs2 into its exercises to train its army national guard. this will allow national guard leaders to experience scenario-based training in the role of national guard commander. 5ec8ef588b
